This charming farmhouse is located in Cetona, a village that perfectly embodies the characteristics that have made the "Sienese countryside" famous. Nestled at the foot of the impressive Mount Cetona, it attracts visitors from all over with its breathtaking views of hills, vineyards, olive groves, and cypress trees. The property for sale has recently undergone reconstruction, carefully preserving the rustic features of the farmhouse while incorporating modern anti-seismic measures and materials native to the area. The property includes a courtyard/park, covered parking spaces, a swimming pool, outbuildings, and storage rooms. It sits on a land of 2.8 hectares. INTERIORS The living space spans 90 square meters across two levels and is arranged as follows: Ground Floor: An apartment with a separate entrance, consisting of a living room with a kitchenette and fireplace, 2 bedrooms, and a bathroom. The basement level houses two storage rooms, accessible via a spiral staircase from the upper floor. The property is in excellent condition, having undergone a complete reconstruction in 2015. The exterior walls are made of exposed stone, and the roof is newly insulated with antique terracotta tiles. Inside, the ceilings showcase exposed chestnut wood beams and handmade terracotta floors.
